1. Aims

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSE) at our school are to:

- To provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- To enable pupils to thrive as individuals and as members of society
- To create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- To provide children with the skills and correct vocabulary to build and maintain good, healthy relationships, manage emotions, describe their bodies and communicate effectively in a range of different situations
- To equip pupils with accurate, relevant knowledge to live healthy lifestyles including managing and maintaining their physical, mental and emotional health
- To prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- To give pupils the opportunity to explore, clarify, challenge and reflect on their own and others attitudes
- To give pupils the opportunity to make informed choices and understand what influences decisions
- To encourage children to be global citizens that respect and take responsibility for the environment

2. Statutory requirements

As an Infant and Junior School, we must provide relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

We do not have to follow the National Curriculum but, we are expected to offer all pupils a curriculum that is similar to the National Curriculum including requirements to teach science which would include the elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum.

In teaching RSE, we are required by our funding agreements to have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

At Court Lane Academies, we teach RSE as set out in this policy.

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, pupils and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review – a small working group (RSHE leads and head teachers) pulled together all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance
2. Share - the RSHE policy was shared and reviewed by governors and amendments were made
3. Staff consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations
4. Parent/stakeholder consultation – parents and any interested parties were invited to review the RSHE policy
5. Pupil consultation – we investigated what exactly pupils want from their RSE through discussion
6. Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was re-shared with governors and ratified

4. Definition

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils.

RSE is about discussing issues, current affairs and topics.

RSE is about listening to other people's views and reflecting on personal views.

RSE is about educating children and preparing them for life in today's modern world.

RSE involves learning about relationships, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves exploring language, which allows children to communicate and express their thoughts, feelings and emotions appropriately.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity

5. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 but this may need to be adapted as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so that children are fully informed and do not seek answers online.

Primary sex education will focus on:

- Preparing boys and girls for the changes that adolescence brings – Year 5 and 6
- How a baby is conceived and born – Year 6

For more information about our curriculum, see our curriculum map in Appendix 1.

6. Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum. Many biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science curriculum, and other aspects are included in religious education (RE). RSE is also linked closely with our computing curriculum and addresses the emerging need of keeping children safe online in today's modern world.

Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

- Families and people who care for me
- Caring friendships

- Respectful relationships
- Online relationships
- Being safe

Our Relationships Education and Health Education programme is an integral part of our whole school PSHE education provision.

This provides opportunities for pupils to:

- better understand the nature of human relationships
- learn about relationships, the importance of communication and assertiveness skills including the importance of values such as respect (for self and others), equality, responsibility, care and compassion
- reflect upon the importance of stable and loving relationships for family life, including the bringing up of children, this also includes marriage and civil partnerships
- consider and understand the changes that occur to their bodies, minds and emotions as a consequence of growth from childhood to adulthood
- reflect upon how to make good, informed and safe choices concerning relationships and healthy lifestyles
- discuss the importance of British values and give examples of what this may look like in society today
- recognise how to stay safe online
- know basic first aid

In Year 5 and 6, children will learn the changes that adolescence brings. In Year 6 the children will learn how a baby is conceived and born.

This policy reflects and is in line with the schools' equal opportunities policy and the schools ensure that the Relationships Education teaching programme is an inclusive one and is appropriate and relevant to all pupils, including those with SEN and disabilities. Teachers ensure that the content, approach and use of inclusive language reflect the diversity of the school community, and helps all pupils to feel valued and included, regardless of their gender, ability, disability, experiences and family background. Relationships Education strives to meet the needs of all pupils regardless of their developing sexuality and deals honestly and sensitively with sexual orientation, answering appropriate questions and offering support.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers). For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

7. Roles and responsibilities

7.1 The governing body

The governing body will approve the RSE policy, and hold the headteacher to account for its implementation.

The governing board will hold the headteacher to account for the implementation of this policy.

7.2 The headteacher

The headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from [non-statutory/non-science] components of RSE (see section 8).

7.3 Staff

Staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSE in a sensitive way
- Modelling positive attitudes to RSE
- Monitoring progress
- Responding to the needs of individual pupils
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the [nonstatutory/non-science] components of RSE

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the headteacher.

All class teachers will have the responsibility of teaching RSE in our school.

7.4 Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

8. Parents' right to withdraw

Parents do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education.

Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory/non-science components of sex education within RSE (see Year 6 curriculum plan in Appendix 1, Lesson 3).

Please speak to your child's class teacher to discuss the content of the session. Requests for withdrawal should be then put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the headteacher.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

9. Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSE as part of their induction and it is included in our continuing professional development calendar.

The headteacher will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE.

10. Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of RSE is monitored by the PSHE subject leaders, Mrs Fagelman at Court Lane Infant School and Miss Long at Court lane Junior school through:

Pupils' development in RSE is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems.

Class teachers assess pupils' understanding and progress through formative and summative processes. These include pre- and post-topic mind maps, drawings, task outcomes, questioning, quotes from children and observation. At the end of each half term, each teacher reviews the programme they have implemented and pass on any comments to the lead as part of the monitoring cycle.

We conduct planning scrutinies, learning walks and review pieces of work and discussions from the children.

This policy will be reviewed by the PSHE subject leaders every two years. At every review, the policy will be approved by the Local Governing Body and Headteachers.
